BROOKLYN TIMELINE

1542 Giovanni Da Verrazano sails into New York Harbor, discovering the land that would later become Brooklyn.

1642 The Town of Breuckelen (the spelling used by its Dutch settlers) is chartered by the Dutch West India Company.

1652 The Pieter Claesen Wyckoff House, the oldest house in New York State, built.

1654 Brooklyn's first church, Flatbush Dutch Reformed Church, was founded, by order of Peter Stuyvesant.

1658 Erasmus Hall, the first public school in America, opens.

1776 During the Revolutionary War, The Battle of Brooklyn was fought for three days in the areas that today are Prospect Park, Park Slope, Bay Ridge and Fort Greene. George Washington retreats and the British occupation of Brooklyn begins.

1814 Brooklyn-New York steam ferry service begins; continues until 1924.

1834 The Town of Brooklyn annexing the surrounding five towns of New Amersfoort (Flatlands),Midwood (Flatbush), New Utrecht, Boswick (Bushwick) and Gravesend.

1841 The Brooklyn Eagle Newspaper begins publication; Walt Whitman serves as editor from 1846-1848.

1848 Brooklyn City Hall, today's Brooklyn Borough Hall, opens.

1858 Baseball gets its first real start. The National Association of Baseball Players is formed.

1859 The Brooklyn Academy of Music (BAM) opens on Montague Street; moves to current location at 30 Lafayette Avenue in 1908 after a devastating fire.

1862 The iron-clad Civil War ship Monitor is launched at Greenpoint and later outfitted at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Built in only 101 days.

1867 Prospect Park, designed by Central Park design team Frederick Law Olmstead and Calvert Vaux, opens.

1868 Eastern Parkway was completed. Designed by Frederick-Law Olmstead and Calvert Vaux, it was the worlds first six-lane parkway.

1874 The frankfurter is born in Coney Island by Charles Feltman and later nick-named the "hot dog" by the press in 1906.

1883 Opening of the Brooklyn Bridge, designed by John Roebling, provided the first link between Brooklyn and Manhattan. During its 13 year construction, 27 men died including its designer.

1892 The Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Arch in Grand Army Plaza, designed by John H. Duncan, architect of Grant's Tomb was dedicated.

1897 The Brooklyn Museum of Art opens.

1897 Steeplechase Park opens in Coney Island, followed by Luna Park (1903-44) and Dreamland (1904-11). Steeplechase Park burns down; new park opens in 1908 and closes in 1964.

1898 Brooklyn, the Bronx, Queens and Staten Island (Richmond) join with Manhattan to become New York City.

1899 The Brooklyn Children's Museum opens.

1911 Brooklyn Botanic Garden opens.

1913 Ebbets Field, home of the Brooklyn Dodgers, opens.

1950 Brooklyn Battery Tunnel opens after 9 years of construction. The only underwater connection between Manhattan and Brooklyn.

1957 Dodgers leave Brooklyn.

1964 The Verrazano Bridge opens connecting Brooklyn and Staten Island. Still one of the longest suspension bridges in the world.

1998 Brooklyn's first new hotel in more than 60 years, Marriott New York At The Brooklyn Bridge, opens in downtown.

2001 Baseball returns to Brooklyn when the Brooklyn Cyclones play first game at KeySpan Park.

2003 Brooklyn Historical Society re-opens with expanded exhibition space.
